Remembering the fallen

SCHOOLCHILDREN gathered with serving and veteran soldiers on Friday to honour the war dead.

As part of Remembrance Day, hundreds lined George Street, Luton, to gather at the war memorial outside the Town Hall to observe two minutes silence.

Today, from 10.57am, a number of organisations will parade from Park Street West to the memorial where at 11am two minutes silence will start and end with the sounding of the Last Post and Reveille.

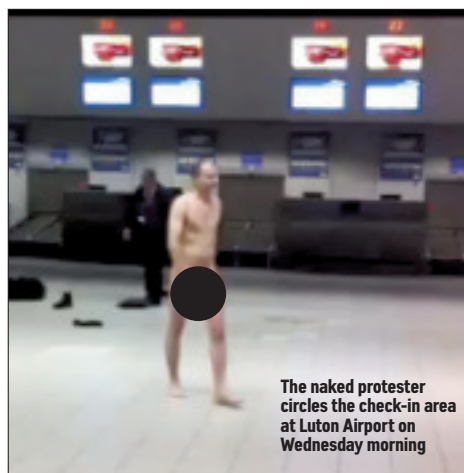

This will be followed by an exhortation and the recital of the Kohima epitaph, by Don Woodcroft Esq, president of the Luton branch of Royal British Legion, to remember members of commonwealth forces.

Mayor of Luton Don Worthing will follow the reading by laying the first wreath together with representatives of ex-service and uniformed organisations in memory of those Commonwealth Armed Forces members who lost their lives.

Naked airport protester shocks crowd with rant

The naked protester circles the check-in area at Luton Airport on Wednesday morning

EXCLUSIVE

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@lutononsunday.co.uk

A PROTESTER was arrested at Luton Airport on suspicion of outraging public decency after stripping naked and delivering a six minute rant.

The unnamed man, believed to be Eastern European, stunned passengers by pouring milk over his head and launching into his tirade at the check-in desk area early on Wednesday morning.

He urinated on the floor before pacing in a circle while apprehensive security staff tried to approach him.

Hundreds of onlookers, including children, watched in bemusement as he bellowed about an unknown company and complained about how it had mistreated him.

The incident was filmed and uploaded to YouTube and by Friday it had received more than 3,500 views. In the video the man could be seen shouting: "They use people for money. I was working for this company, they use people for money."

"They want to kill my son and my wife and my daughter."

"They called me yesterday into the office and asked 'do you love your mother? Do you love your father? Do you love your daughter? Do you love your son? If you love them do what I tell you."

"They know I am here. We are slaves, we are slaves . . . They will kill you. They told me to come here . . . Give me TV, give me camera."

"We work as slaves from Poland, Italy, India. Get the police, give me security, the Queen, the Queen of this country. Where is she? Where is she?"

"She doesn't exist. My son is rotting now or he is dead."

An airport spokeswoman said: "It is a public area, anyone can wander in. What can we do?"

"We can't stop people coming in the front door, it is a public space. People are checked when they go airside."

"Ten million people pass through Luton Airport, you are bound to get one or two with some issues."

After being arrested the man was handed over to mental health services without charge.

If, after an assessment, the mental health team decides he does not need their help, police will be able to interview him before charging him or releasing him on bail.

A spokesman for SEPT, the mental health trust, said: "If a member of the public experiences a mental health crisis, they are usually admitted to a Mental Health Assessment Unit where they spend up to 72 hours with dedicated nurses, doctors, social workers and a benefit advisor, who thoroughly assess their mental, physical and social needs."

"Following this assessment they are then referred to the most appropriate service for their individual need."

Performance concerns see health trusts monitored monthly

NHS primary care trusts have been put on a monthly monitoring basis after a 'significant drop' in performance at Luton & Dunstable Hospital. A 'cluster' of trusts which include NHS Luton and NHS Bedfordshire will report to the region's health authority after areas of 'concern' were raised including mixed sex accommodation, cancer waits, long waits for treatment, and A&E at the L&D. Cluster chief executive Angela McNab said in her report at the NHS Luton board meeting in September: 'I am sorry to report that at our recent strategic health authority performance review we identified a significant drop in performance at the L&D. As a result of this, the authority has placed the cluster onto monthly performance monitoring. 'We are working intensively with the L&D and are expecting to see progress which enables us to move back to acceptable performance within three months and which we hope will enable us to be back to monthly reporting by the end of the calendar year.'

In a statement NHS East of England, the region's health authority, said: 'The cluster performance was reviewed at their quarter one meeting in September and due to some concerns about performance in some areas at the L&D it was agreed that going forward they would meet with us monthly until performance in these areas improved. There is nothing particularly unique about the decision to monitor their performance on a monthly basis.'

The L&D concerns highlighted are:
■ Mixed Sex Accommodation - the Government has agreed to eliminate mixed sex accommodation. This is discussed routinely with clusters if any breaches are reported.

■ Cancer waits - providers have to deliver services to minimum operating standards. This is monitored by the health authority which seeks assurance that any services that do not meet these over a quarter have plans in place to recover performance.

■ A&E performance - continues to be monitored against a maximum four hour waiting time and again the authority will focus on commissioned services that fall below this standard over a quarter.

In a statement on its performance, the L&D said: 'For cancer waits, we have made a significant improvement in our performance and have achieved 84.7 per cent against the national target of 85 per cent for the last quarter.'

'Regarding single sex accommodation, actions have already been taken to meet guidelines on single-sex accommodation with some further actions being taken over the coming months to achieve full compliance - this includes investment in building works on a number of wards.

'We have seen a significant reduction in the number of breaches of single-sex compliance over the last quarter.

'As far as waiting time for elective (planned) surgery is concerned, the hospital has continued to achieve all of the national targets for waiting times for elective surgery.

'However, the volume of emergency admissions to the hospital in recent months has caused difficulties in dealing with all our patients in a timely manner.

'We have put in place a number of actions to deal with this including a new operating theatre which will become fully operational tomorrow and will make a significant improvement to the patient experience.

'Last year we carried out 21,000 surgical operations comprising 17,000 elective (ie requiring and appointment) and 4,000 non-elective (emergency) surgical operations.

'For A&E performance, we have recently invested £3 million to reconfigure our Emergency Department to ensure that we can see, assess, treat and discharge/admit patients in a timely way.

'We have also invested in additional consultants (six posts now compared with two in the year 2000) who are on the front line to provide specialist care for the 60,000 patients that come to our A&E every year.

'We have achieved the national waiting time target for the year to date.'

Multi-million pay-out for baby 'starved of oxygen'

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lsnmedia.com

A SEVEN-year-old boy left with devastating brain injuries due to hospital mismanagement of his birth is to be paid a multi-million pound compensation settlement by the NHS.

Ciaran James Dill, of Alder Crescent, Luton, needs round-the-clock care after he suffered permanent brain damage during delays in his birth at Luton & Dunstable Hospital in 2004.

A High Court Judge on Thursday approved a huge compensation payout from the NHS Trust which runs the hospital, compromising a £2.1 million lump sum and annual six-figure payments to cover the costs of the care he will need for the rest of his life.

David Westcott QC, for Ciaran, told the court insufficient attention was paid to a heart monitor during the labour of Ciaran's mother, Jennifer Dill, in July 2004.

He said the negligence meant Ciaran's birth was delayed by nearly an hour, during which he was starved of oxygen.

The resulting brain damage means Ciaran is now unable to walk or talk, and will require 24-hour care from his parents and carers for as long as he lives. The L&D admitted liability for his injuries, and has now agreed to pay the multi-million settlement to pay for Ciaran's future care and support.

Neil Block QC, for the Trust, told the court: 'I would like to apologise to Ciaran, and in particular his mother and father.

'A mistake was made. We understand that the money will never replace what he has lost, but we hope that one huge worry will have been lifted from his parents' shoulders.

'The parents have fully committed themselves to Ciaran's care. We would not want this occasion to pass without an indication of how much we admire them for that.'

Approving the settlement, Mr Justice Eady, sitting at London's Royal Courts of Justice, also paid tribute to Ciaran's parents, and said he hoped the money would give them peace of mind.

An L&D spokesman said: 'We are pleased that the agreed damages award has been approved by the court. We wish to express once again our sincere apologies to Ciaran's family.'

Cops with convictions are upholding the law

BY KEELEY KNOWLES

editor@lsmmedia.co.uk

FOUR police officers who have convictions for various offences are currently serving with Bedfordshire Police.

The force employees have records for assault and property damage, criminal damage, harassment and common assault.

Figures released under the Freedom of Information Act reveal that two of the convictions occurred before the officers joined the force.

Since 2008, two Bedfordshire Police staff have either resigned or been dismissed following a criminal conviction. Their offences were for driving with excess alcohol and assault.

In 2008 Luton on Sunday reported that the force's health and safety officer Belinda Nelson, based at Luton Police Station, was sacked after admitting driving while nearly three times over the limit.

Nelson, who was 46 at the time, was banned from driving for 28 months and fined £350 by magistrates after pleading guilty to drink driving.

ON DUTY ASSAULT:
Former PCSO
Ashley Balkham

She was kept on restricted duties while the force conducted an investigation into her conduct and subsequently dismissed her at a disciplinary hearing.

Earlier that year LoS reported that PCSO Ashley Balkham had kept his £21,000-a-year job despite having admitted assaulting a man while on duty in Luton town centre.

Following a disciplinary hearing, Balkham was given a final written warning and returned to full PCSO duties. He is no longer with the force. A Beds Police spokeswoman said: "When recruiting officers we follow national guidance and all officers and staff are subjected to in-depth vetting procedures.

"In line with national policy all candidates are required to disclose any previous convictions or cautions they may have received.

"Each candidate's application is then assessed individually taking into consideration the gravity of the disclosed offence, the time lapsed and the individual's age at the time of the offence.

"The decision as to whether the candidate can then join the force is based on this process.

"If an officer is convicted of a criminal offence while employed by Bedfordshire Police they become the subject of a gross misconduct hearing which is presided over by a member of the force's senior command, another senior officer and an independent Home Office-approved representative.

"This board will decide each case on the evidence presented and can result in the officer being dismissed."

It's unlucky for some as L&D is 13th on 'rude' hospital list

A HOSPITAL has been ranked as one of the 'rudest' in the country, according to new figures.

Luton & Dunstable Hospital had 124 complaints made about it in 2010, putting it 13th out of 591 in England.

The figures, released through a Freedom of Information Act request, detail each of the country's hospital figures and show Leicester Royal Infirmary as the worst with 275 complaints.

The L&D said in that year it treated 70,000 inpatients, 300,000 outpatients, 65,000 people in A&E and delivered more than 5,300 babies.

A spokeswoman said: "Although the proportion of people expressing dissatisfaction is a tiny fraction of the L&D's total number of patients, the Trust does not condone staff being rude to patients and is dismayed to hear of any such instances.

"Any individual complaints are thoroughly investigated. The hospital encourages patients to raise concerns and advises them about how to make complaints.

"In fact last year the hospital recorded more than 4,000 compliments from grateful patients and relatives thanking our staff for their kindness, care and skill."

The spokeswoman added that the hospital 'would not comment publicly on the detail of any one individual's complaint or circumstances.'

In the past year the hospital launched an initiative for staff called 'Patients 1st' to focus on giving patients the best care - including attitude and courtesy.

May rapped for airport checks

THE Home Secretary has come under fire for implementing a scheme at Luton Airport which means people are not having their passports checked.

Theresa May approved a change in border rules allowing the UK Border Agency (UKBA) to 'speed up' passengers through border control by conducting 'pre-checks' on certain flight routes.

The airport, along with Gatwick, Birmingham and Leeds/Bradford airports, has been using the system for about a year.

Mrs May this week faced calls for her resignation over separate relaxations in passport controls over the summer.

She has accused Brodie Clark (pictured), a former senior UKBA official and who lives in Bedfordshire, of defying her orders to relax checks on non-European passports.

Mr Clark quit this week and accused Mrs May of misleading the public about his actions.

He will give evidence to MPs next week.

Fears raised over day centre plans

EXCLUSIVE

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@lutononsunday.co.uk

MORE than 150 elderly and vulnerable people could be affected by plans to relocate day centres. Luton Borough Council is looking to move three sheltered accommodation schemes to other buildings to save almost £500,000.

At tomorrow's executive meeting, councillors will decide whether Stopsley Day Centre, in Hitchin Road, should be integrated into the sheltered housing unit at Colwell Court, in Colwell Rise, Milan Day Centre, in Solway Road North, should relocate to Dallow Learning and Community Centre, and the 'SKY' support service at the Milan Day Centre should move to other day care facilities.

It is also proposed that St Monica's Day Care Centre, in St Ives Close, will be turned into a specialist dementia day care unit.

These changes will potentially affect 154 people, both residents of Colwell Court and centre users, as well as 42 members of staff. It will also get rid of eight full-time posts, of which seven are vacant.

A resident of Colwell Court, who we agreed not to name, said: "If they are transferred here they are going to build an extension to the conservatory which I don't think is satisfactory for the people who will be using it. In the summer it will be too hot, in the winter it will be too cold.

"The council is planning to build an extra six car parking spaces, but we don't know how that will affect the spaces we have already and whether it will impose on our disabled access."

A council spokesman said: "We are looking to modernise day care in Luton by offering older people and adults with other care needs more personal choice and activities, so they can live happy and independent lives for longer.

"We are proposing to relocate the older persons' day care service from Stopsley Day Centre to the sheltered housing unit at Colwell Court and restructure the staffing arrangements within the council's day care service to suit these proposed new arrangements which will provide greater opportunities for social inclusion."

Frozen food proposal aims to cut meal costs

HUNDREDS of day centre users could be fed 'regenerated frozen meals' as the council tries to save £70,000.

At the moment, chefs at the various centres cook fresh meals each day and Luton Borough Council says are 'typically of a high quality and meet ethnic and cultural dietary requirements'.

But the council wants to provide them with the pre-cooked frozen food, which is currently given to Meals on Wheels customers.

The proposal will mean 19 people could lose their jobs, of which the majority are cooks as kitchen assistants and domestics will be required to plate up and serve meals. There are 340 people who use the services.

In September, 25 council staff, of whom 21 were councillors, went to a tasting session of the Appetito meals.

Fourteen of those tasters said they would be 'very happy' to have the meal as their main meal.

A council spokesman said: "The proposal is to provide high quality meals that offer much more choice and variety with menus that cater for all tastes and ethnicities, while doing so in a more efficient manner than the current set-up.

"The idea is to bring meals for day centre users in line with customers who are in their homes who have been enjoying pre-cooked meals for a number of years through our successful meals on wheels service.

"The consultation will involve tasting sessions for customers, their families and staff."

No charges brought in parish 'fraud' probe

EXCLUSIVE

BY LUI STRACCIA

lustraccia@lutononsunday.co.uk

A VILLAGER claims a fraudster elicited sensitive information from him by masquerading as a parish councillor via email – but police investigations have drawn a blank.

Patrick Smith, of Hyde Road, Caddington, says he was 'conned' into sending a secret document by an unknown person who allegedly passed themselves off as Doreen Thakoordin, who at the time was a member of Caddington Parish Council. Having subsequently made verbal contact with Mrs Thakoordin, who 'knew nothing about' receiving any emails from him, Mr Smith, 67, came to the conclusion the contact who had asked for the information from him was in fact not who they said they were.

Two weeks later, Mr Smith received a letter from the lawyer of Cllr Richard Stay, who represents Caddington on Central Bedfordshire Council, regarding the contents of the document which Cllr Stay said were 'defamatory' of him. Cllr Stay told Luton on Sunday he was sent the information 'by a third party' but would not elaborate on whether or not he knew the identity of this 'third party'.

As part of their investigation into 'alleged computer offences', police wrote to Cllr Stay asking how he had come by the information and concluded there was 'no evidence to support a criminal charge'.

The situation has left Mr Smith and Mrs Thakoordin, of Manor Road, claiming they feel they are 'victims' of a blagger. Blagging is an illegal practice of obtaining confidential information by impersonation or other deception in which journalists from the now defunct News of the World are alleged to have engaged.

Mr Smith said: "I feel the police have not addressed the issues. If they're not prepared to find the identity of the perpetrator, then that person is still out there to do their dirty deeds. It's sensitive material."

Mrs Thakoordin, 66, said: "I am very angry and mortified that someone could do this. Whoever it is could be using my name to send all sorts of rubbish. I'm preparing a complaint to the Central Bedfordshire Council Standards Board."

In a statement, Bedfordshire Police said: 'We have completed a full investigation into the allegations made by Mr Smith about the computer offences and found no evidence to support a criminal charge.'

'If Mr Smith has more evidence to support a further investigation into the alleged computer offences, we would advise him to contact us directly and we will endeavour to assist him further.'

Cllr Stay who did respond to the police letter, said: "I do not know who or how the information was obtained from either Mr Smith or others. It was sent to me by a third party, which prompted my lawyer's letter to Mr Smith. In respect of the source of the document or the allegations regarding the email trail, I have no information which would assist you."

In 2009, Mr Smith and his wife Christine were arrested on suspicion of the harassment of Cllr Stay but were never charged.

High-flying airport keeps taxes down

BY LUI STRACCIA
lui.straccia@lutononsunday.co.uk

LUTON Airport is crucial in keeping council tax in the town the lowest in Bedfordshire, it was revealed this week.

Cllr Robin Harris, chairman of London Luton Airport Ltd (LLAL) which is owned by Luton Borough Council, said the airport generated millions of pounds a year which is vital to the running of the town.

Last year the total concession fee paid to LLAL from March 2010 to March 2011 was £22.2m.

According to the latest figures, Luton's average Band D council tax requirement for 2011/2012, which includes fire and police authority precepts, is £1,371.10.

In the Bedford Borough area, the equivalent figure is £1,555.92, while it is £1,535.54 for a household in the north Central Bedfordshire Council area and £1,571.36 in the south.

Labour Cllr Harris (above right) said: "The airport is a big contributor towards keeping council tax low, but also helps to improve services for people."

"It is also helping us to build the Aquatics Centre. It is a major contributor towards our capital programme and the money is able to assist charities and make provision for front-line services.

"It has been the case for decades, and I'd hope the people of Luton understand what an asset it is to them. The airport is something I think the vast majority of people know about and understand and appreciate it."

"But it also helps with the whole area around Luton, not just Luton itself."

Safety watchdog to investigate fatal ladder fall

AN investigation is under way into possible health and safety breaches after a man fell from a ladder and died.

Tony Bolt, 60, was carrying out refurbishment work to the exterior of Yorkshire Bank in George Street, Luton, for First Choice Group on October 19 when he suffered serious injuries to his neck in the fall.

After a post-mortem the coroner said the cause of death was 'fall with traumatic injury to neck'. A date for the inquest has yet to be set.

The Health and Safety Executive has begun an investigation after police ruled out any element of criminality.

Huge expense of pensions

SIR - Last week's article on the local government pension schemes and the spat between Cllrs Simmons and Franks centred on controversial proposals to increase employees' contributions.

But I wonder if people realise how much councils up and down the country pay in, as the employer?

Last December I was astonished to read in the national press Communities Secretary Eric Pickles' assertion that 'Town Hall pensions are now costing over £300 a year to every household paying council tax... the equivalent to a quarter of everyone's local tax bill going to local government pension costs.'

Now, I've no idea how many households Luton has, so cannot comment on the £300 figure, but I do believe that here the 'equivalent' referred to is slightly more than one quarter. How so?

The 2010/11 Luton Borough Council published accounts show council tax revenue at around £60 million (at just 11 per cent of total revenue, a far smaller percentage than many realise, I suspect), while contributions to the pension schemes totalled £17 million - that makes it about 28 per cent.

It gets worse. Luton's share of the deficit is £180.4 million. The published accounts explain clearly 'this means that the estimated cost of providing the pension benefits earned to date by both past and present employees is £180.4 million more than the value of the Fund's assets' - that's a lot of dosh to be found.

Interesting, isn't it? I shall be intrigued to learn from all three local political leaders what tricks they have up their sleeve to solve this one.

Gary Needham

Bushwood feeling is strong

SIR - In reply to Declan Duggan's rather curious letter on October 30, claiming Cllr Stay is passionately against the Bushwood proposal, I would have thought it was clear for all - guilty as charged.

The same applies to me. We are both elected representatives mandated by our residents to oppose a scheme that it is unaffordable, unsustainable and wholly destructive in so many ways, not just to the villages but also to the surrounding area.

If Mr Duggan doubts the strength of feeling against Bushwood, then perhaps he should visit the pubs in this neck of the woods and just ask.

Has he also, for instance, asked the residents and users of London Road, Farley Hill, Dunstable Road, Dallow Road and Hatters Way how they feel about traffic coming to a standstill during rush hour as the cars from the proposed 5,500 new homes try to access their road network to get to work and school?

Cllr Ken Crossett
Chairman of Slip End Parish Council

Opportunity to be taken

SIR - I have come to the firm conclusion that Cllr Stay is not only infatuated with Bushwood, but also that he must be in denial and that he quite simply just doesn't get it.

The business community in and around Dunstable is crying out for regeneration, economic growth and much-needed jobs.

We have had enough empty promis-

Contribution rise not unreasonable

SIR - Your Page 12 story last week (Labour sides with workers in pension row), and the Liberal Democrat opposition to what the Labour Luton Borough Council is doing, would have been much more understandable for your readers if the article had included the information that the council's pensions fund is £180 million in deficit.

That means the gap between what the pension fund needs to honour its commitments and the funding it holds is £180m.

The shortfall has grown from £122m in 2008 to £180m at March 31, 2011.

Yet Labour councillors, who don't even have a plan to reduce the problem, are complaining because the Government says staff should be asked to pay a little more to hold on to what most people say is a very generous pension scheme.

The huge funding shortfall is the reason Liberal Democrat councillors voted against the Labour resolution saying council employees should not be asked to make a bigger contribution in order to stop the deficit from getting bigger.

We do not believe it is unreasonable to expect council employees to accept an increase in their contributions to the fund in order to ensure the long-term security of their pension scheme.

es from politicians and the master plan that Central Bedfordshire Council has come up with may take up to 20 years to put in to place.

Even then it all relies on millions of pounds from the government and private investors.

I am a local businessman and a member of the Federation of Small Business.

Over many years I have sat through and heard many presentations on the future of our region, lots of promises and lots of potential but no substance.

It's all jam tomorrow but nothing today and the local business community is becoming tired.

The Bushwood scheme to the west of Luton really is the only planning potential that we have on the table that will deliver much-needed jobs, housing, new schools, state-of-the-art facilities for the elderly and local residential and day care for all our disabled both young and old.

There is also an offer to both councils - Central Beds and Luton Borough - to re-house Luton Town Football Club in a brand new 20,000 capacity community stadium to be shared by the people of Luton and Dunstable.

Cllr Stay, you have a duty to meet and sit down with the developers and discuss all the potential benefits that may come our way and do the best for all the people who live in Central Bedfordshire.

We cannot let this opportunity slip away because there is too much at stake.

Youth unemployment is a huge problem in our area and the thousands of jobs that would be created at Bushwood would have a major positive impact in our region.

Federation of Small Businesses member

Hoo, what, where, why?

SIR - With regard to your report on the location of Luton Hoo and Cllr Richard Stay's constituents, in times past boundaries were defined by physical things such as hills, rivers or white cliffs.

Later sometimes they were defined by lines drawn in the sand or by the sword. More recently boundaries were settled by communities but this has lately been taken over by bureaucracy and politics.

Luton is the shape that it is because of Luton Hoo. If you walk from the front door of the Town Hall down Park Street you will quickly come to Luton Hoo having walked past homes schools and communal land given from the estate to the people.

If you stand near Someries Castle you can see where Someries School is. Also visible is Luton Airport, the Town Hall and Luton Hoo.

You can see that Someries is in one locality. Luton Hoo is not in Central Bedfordshire and London Luton Airport is not in London.

What cannot be seen are the political boundaries of county, parliament or council all of which are different.

If the people on the remains of the Luton Hoo estate wish to feel better by associating themselves with one of these rather than with Luton that is their right.

If people in Luton feel an association with Luton Hoo that is their right. This is the principle at stake.

Once the politicians of the old political parties are involved common sense democracy and the truth are likely to be pushed aside.

David Cameron is currently having boundaries changed. He says it is for efficiency and fairness. The truth is it is being done to keep the Conservatives in power. Luton Hoo did not get its name by coincidence. If Luton obtains benefits by becoming a city, Luton Hoo will benefit.

Cllr Stay's statements have been reported in the newspaper named Luton on Sunday, not East Hyde on Sunday.

Cancer Trust appeal

SIR - I am writing to appeal to your readers to support for the first time a nationwide festive fundraising initiative taking place in all Homebase stores next month in aid of Teenage Cancer Trust.

Last year Homebase employees selected Teenage Cancer Trust as their official charity partner until February 2013.

As Teenage Cancer Trust does not receive any government funding, this partnership is a wonderful opportunity to raise money for young people with cancer across the country.

In just one year Homebase employees in the UK and Ireland have raised a staggering £1 million to help us build more specialist home-from-home Teenage Cancer Trust units in NHS hospitals.

Next month Teenage Cancer Trust has been given the chance to bucket collect in every Homebase store on Saturday, December 10 and Sunday, December 11.

We are asking volunteers to share their Christmas cheer and if they wish, wear a Santa hat, jazz up their collection bucket with tinsel or go in full fancy dress as a bucket collecting elf. We also need volunteers for our Christmas wishes stands in-store where customers will be encouraged to donate £1 to write a Christmas wish on a tag which can then be hung on the store Christmas tree. If any of your readers are interested in sparing a couple of hours to help us fundraise at their local store so we can support young cancer patients in their area then please contact christmascollection@teenagecancertrust.org or call 020 7612 0370.

Keep mobility payments

SIR - I was recently asked by charities Leonard Cheshire Disability and Mencap to chair the Low Review, an independent review into how the personal mobility needs of disabled people living in state-funded residential care are met.

Now that the Low Review has published its findings, I would like to urge the Government to make sure that it protects mobility payments for disabled people and makes the relevant amendments to the Welfare Reform Bill. It is clear from the 800 submissions made to the review that if mobility payments were to be removed from disabled people living in residential care, this would lead to a significant loss of independence.

Furthermore, despite earlier suggestions by the Government that there might be an overlap in funding, the review's findings show that there is no evidence to suggest that vital mobility payments are duplicating local authorities' funding of disabled people's social care needs.

Everyone has mobility needs, but many disabled people face additional costs or require support in meeting these needs.

It is mobility that enables people to participate in their community, gain an education, and maintain a family life or work. In order to enable disabled people living in residential care to retain choice and control over their lives, it is vital that mobility payments remain. To find out more about the review visit <http://lowreview.org.uk>

Slaughterhouse shambles

SIR - The case of slaughterman John McFarlane has once again hit the headlines.

In 2009, he used a captive bolt gun from the deer abattoir where he worked to kill a woman in front of her daughters. This is a horrific murder and begs many questions: How was this man able to become a slaughterman? Who licensed him? And why was he allowed to take a captive bolt gun away with him?

The link between cruelty to animals and violence to people has been made by many psychologists and criminal behaviourists, and yet when Animal Aid asked Defra how many people with unspent violent convictions work in British slaughterhouses, it could not answer as the Agency that licenses slaughterers does not even ask this.

It does ask whether prospective slaughterers have convictions for animal cruelty but since it does no Criminal Records Bureau checks, it has no way of knowing whether the applicant is telling the truth.

In the Middle Ages, the commonly used word for slaughterhouses was 'shambles'. Our current regulatory system indicates that nothing has changed.

Tax cheats, 69 and 73, told to pay

BY LUI STRACCIA

lui.straccia@lutonsunday.co.uk

A SIXTY-NINE-YEAR-OLD benefits fraudster stole more than £13,000 while having more than £20k stashed away in a secret bank account.

John Garvey, of Reginald Street, Luton, misled Luton Borough Council when filling in three separate housing and council tax benefits application forms by not mentioning anything about his savings.

Following an investigation by the council's Audit and Investigations Team, Garvey was found to have fraudulently obtained benefit payments totalling £13,739.

At Luton Magistrates' Court he pleaded guilty to three counts of giving false and misleading documents to the authority to obtain housing and council tax benefits.

Garvey received a 12 month Community Order with a 16 week curfew from 9pm until 7am. He was also ordered to pay £220 towards the council's costs. The money has been repaid in full to the authority.

In a separate case, Akbal

Bhatti, 73, admitted to stealing £4,740 from taxpayers by claiming council tax benefits.

He failed to tell the authority he had savings in several bank accounts which at one point totalled £51,000.

Following a council investigation, Bhatti, of Stockingstone Road, fully repaid the money.

At Luton Magistrates' Court, Bhatti pleaded guilty to two charges of dishonestly providing false and misleading information to Luton Borough Council to obtain council tax benefit.

He received a 12 month Community Order with a 12 week curfew from 7pm until 7am and was ordered to pay £220 towards the council's costs.

If you have financial problems and are falling behind with your council tax or rent, get help by calling the council on 0300 790 0345, see www.luton.gov.uk/helpwithdebts or visit the Town Hall.

If you think someone you know is claiming benefits illegally, call the fraud hotline on 0500 500 777 or email fraud@luton.gov.uk

Shoppers left in dark as lights go out

A POWER cut affected thousands of people and gave a fright to shoppers at an indoor shopping centre.

Some stores asked people to leave and tried to close their shutters once the lights had gone out at The Mall Luton at 1.50pm on Tuesday.

A spokeswoman for UK Power Networks said: "Several thousand customers in the LU2 and LU3 postcode areas of Luton lost power following a fault on our high voltage network. All supplies were returned by 1.56pm. We appreciate how difficult it is to be without electricity and apologise to all those affected."

The Mall Luton's marketing manager, Lavinia Holland, said: "The power went out throughout the shopping centre for about ten minutes. All our radios and communications systems went down, so we put a message over the tannoy explaining there had been a power cut and asking shoppers to wait for further instructions."

"It's never happened here before but luckily it didn't last for very long."

Church now needs to practise what it preaches

A LANDMARK ruling in the courts has said the Catholic Church is responsible for priests charged with child abuse.

This could have major implications for those who claimed they were abused while at St Francis Boys' Home, in Sheffield, in the 1960s and 1970s.

For several years now, Luton on Sunday's sister paper Bedfordshire on Sunday has been running stories about St Francis Boys' Home. This home existed in Sheffield until the 1970s and was run by the St Francis Home as part of the Catholic Church.

We have many tales from men who lived there as boys about the abuse they suffered. They claim both physical and sexual abuse was inflicted on them, persistently and systematically. Two have taken legal action against the church and won substantial amounts of money in out-of-court settlements. The last person to win compensation, Tony Walsh, still suffers nightmares from his experiences of more than 40 years ago. Many grown men are still embarrassed and ashamed to talk openly about their abuse.

Ruling that the church can be liable, Mr Justice Macduff has said: 'Whether or not the relationship may be regarded as "akin to employment", the principal features of the relationship dictate that the defendants should be held responsible for the actions which they initiated by the appointment and all that went with it.'

He added: 'There is effectively no control over priests once appointed.'

'Within the bounds of canon law, a priest is free to conduct his ministry as he sees fit, with little or no interference from the bishop, whose rule is advisory not supervisory.'

'A bishop has a duty of vigilance, but is not in a position to make requirements or give directions.'

So the church appointed and managed the priests, therefore should accept some responsibility for their behaviour. That should be clear enough for the Catholic Church and it ought now to be looking to closure in this matter.

As I have said before BoS has been called scum for reporting these allegations of abuse but not a word of sorrow from the church on the allegations themselves. The Catholic Church is very good at pontificating to others on how to behave. It could be argued that it is its main purpose in life. It is time to practise what it preaches, especially as the law is now stating it is not just morally but also legally responsible.

TEACHERS must be getting somewhat confused at the mixed messages they are getting from the Government. On the one hand they are being told they are a drain on resources and will have to work longer for a smaller pension. On the other hand, undergraduates with first class degrees are to be offered up to £20,000 as a bonus if they take up teaching. One question I might be tempted to ask: Will the £20,000 count towards my pension?

AT the moment national newspapers are speculating that Germany might be taking over Europe peacefully, which they once failed to do by force, I would just like to remind you of what I said in August: "Without swift action there is the real possibility that some smaller EU countries will become little more than colonies, as their economies are controlled externally. Which could make Germany the colonial power of Europe, the irony of which will not be lost on some of our older readers."

As always you read it here first.

Residents suffer key scratches to vehicles over several months

BY LAUREN ARCHELL

laurenarchell@lutononsunday.co.uk

DRIVERS have been left with damage to their cars after a spate of keying incidents.

Calls were made to police during the early hours of Monday morning to report the scratches on the cars in Great Northern Road, Allen Close and Downs Road, Dunstable, over the week-end.

Katie Hayward, of Great Northern Road, said that this was not the first time her Land Rover Discovery and her husband's Lexus RX300 had been targeted.

Police are investigating reports of a man who has been seen in the streets at the times cars have been keyed.

Mrs Hayward, 31, said: "Including the incident this weekend, our two cars have been keyed on three separate occasions in the last couple of months."

"It's incredibly frustrating. We should be able to park outside our own property without the risk of vandalism."

"I'm not even considering paying to get the damage repaired as it'll probably just happen again."

A spokesman for Bedfordshire Police said: "We are investigating reports of vandalism to several cars in Great Northern Road, Allen Close and Downs Road in Dunstable and will be reviewing CCTV footage."

"A witness has reported seeing a white man, of 5ft 8ins who was wearing blue jeans and a blue short-sleeved T-shirt in the area around the time of the incidents."

Anyone with information about this crime should call PC Stephen Bozward on 01582 473144 or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

It's a concrete start

THE first of 4,700 pre-cast concrete beams is expected to be laid on the Luton Dunstable Busway site later this month, signalling the start of construction on the much talked about project.

Once completed it is hoped that journey times between Houghton Regis, Dunstable, Luton town centre and Luton Airport will be cut by half and public transport will be revolutionised across the conurbation.

Specially-adapted buses capable of running both on their own track and on public roads will travel along the 13.4km route, picking up passengers from seven main stops.

Although work on the development is just beginning, the preparation of the route has been taking place since 2009.

Vegetation has been cleared, six disused railway bridge decks have been removed and slow worms, orchids and even ant hills have been relocated to new habitats.

Over the next two years, an interchange featuring the capacity of 23 buses will be created, along with six new bridges which will reuse recycled material from the demolished structures where possible.

As part of the improvements, the 265 bus stops away from the main route will be also upgraded with real time passenger information, raised pavements for level boarding and many with new shelters.

CONSTRUCTION work on the Luton Dunstable Busway gets under way later this month, although preparations on the route have been ongoing for two years. Reporter LAUREN ARCHER reports on the progress and how the £89.2 million scheme will benefit the area.

Central Bedfordshire Councillor Brian Spurr said: "Our contractors have been busy for many months previously, preparing the route and clearing major structures. It's wonderful now to be able to see the busway taking shape before our eyes."

The project is being delivered in partnership with Luton Borough Council and Central Beds and is scheduled to be completed in 2013.

Government funding of £80.3 million was awarded in March 2010, with the total cost of the busway put at £89.2m including the price of land and compensation, bus stop improvements and supervision of the works.

Already, the project is providing work for around 200 people, with main contractor BAM Nuttall recruiting locally for their operative and administrative staff. David McGowan, operations for Busway scheme

TAKING A LOOK: Cllr Roy Davis and Colin Chick on a section of the Busway route

PLANS: The White Lion Retail Park stop on the Busway director for BAM Nuttall Ltd, said: "We are pleased to be working on this innovative scheme that delivers real environmental and economic benefits for the local community."

Luton Borough Cllr Roy Davis said: "This scheme offers an unrivalled opportunity to change people's local travel habits by providing a high-tech service that will reach deep into our communities."

"Currently it takes a conventional bus more than 30 minutes to do the six-mile journey from Dunstable town centre to Luton train station. On completion of the work it should reliably take around 15 minutes."

The vehicles will be able to bypass congestion at peak times by travelling along their own guideway and using 'bus only' routes in the town centres.

They will also have priority over other traffic on the 'on road' sections of the network by using their own lanes and transponders fitted to switch traffic lights to green as they are approached.

Another benefit of the project is that more than 125,000 people will live within walking distance of one of the stops along the route, while 265 stops away from the main corridor across Luton and Dunstable will also be served.

Colin Chick, the council's corporate director for Environment and Regeneration, explained that the venture is key to boosting the economy of the area by joining up residential areas with business, jobs and educational opportunities.

He said: "Transport is the glue that holds society together."

"We can't, and wouldn't want, to move our businesses, factories, university, hospital or shops in the town centre. But we can get people there faster."

"The busway will link four of the poorest wards in the borough with the station, businesses, work, education, health and leisure facilities."

"It's often forgotten that one in four people in Luton do not have access to a car, and for the young and people with disabilities it's no exaggeration to say this scheme will deliver life-changing opportunities."

Uni chief backing report on places

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@lutononsunday.co.uk

A REPORT which criticises Government plans to let universities 'compete' for places has been welcomed by the University of Bedfordshire.

Lifting the cap on places for students should not happen until at least 12 months after the rise in tuition fees next year, the Business, Innovation and Skills Select Committee said on Wednesday.

The changes would mean there are unlimited places at universities for students gaining top grades while universities offering cheaper degrees can bid for extra places.

After the report was published, Professor Les Ebdon (pictured), who is Vice Chancellor of the university and chairman of think tank million+, said: "I welcome the fact that MPs have recognised that a great deal of uncertainty has been created for students and universities because of poor communication and too many policy changes introduced by ministers at the last minute.

"MPs are also absolutely right to recommend that changes to student number controls should not be introduced at the same time as changes to the fees and funding system."

Professor Ebdon also welcomed the committee's proposals for the equivalent of a pupil premium to be made available to universities.

He said: "The committee's suggestion that the Government introduces a pupil premium for universities is a good one but it has been undermined by the late imposition of price constraint via the 2012 student number controls.

"This will result in universities which teach the majority of students from more disadvantaged backgrounds receiving less taxpayer-backed funding.

"Any move by Ministers to change the criteria for degree-awarding powers to permit non-teaching organisations to apply for university title will not only undermine the role but also the international reputation of UK universities.

"The Government would now do well to heed the advice of the committee rather than push ahead with this proposal."

Learners told to get their jabs

STUDENTS have been warned not to underestimate seasonal flu this winter.

Young people across the county who have certain medical conditions or who are pregnant are being encouraged to get vaccinated against flu now before it starts to circulate, as they may be at greater risk of becoming seriously ill if they catch it.

GP practices are running vaccination clinics and students who are studying away from home are being reminded that they should already be registered somewhere.

Although the majority of older people in Bedfordshire and Luton get vaccinated each year, fewer than half of young people who are advised to get the seasonal flu jab actually took it up last year.

This means covering coughs and sneezes with a tissue, disposing of the tissue after one use, and cleaning hands as soon as possible.

Muriel Scott, NHS Bedfordshire director of Public Health, said: "Flu is not the same as getting a cold though; its symptoms are more severe, last longer and for some it can lead to more serious illnesses, which could impact on coursework and exams."

If you are concerned about your symptoms call NHS Direct on 0845 46 47, visit www.nhsdirect.nhs.uk or if you live in Luton call 111.

Council matches all eligible children with a new family

TOP adoption rates have seen all eligible children placed with families.

Since Central Bedfordshire Council became a unitary authority in April 2009, those children eligible have all gone to families within 12 months, placing it among the best authorities in the UK.

Cllr Mark Versallion said: "We fully support the Prime Minister's campaign to encourage more people to come forward and adopt a child.

"This is a high priority for us and we will continue to strive to be one of the best performing authorities when it comes to adoption."

SMOKEFREE

Cannabis find sparks police raid on home

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@lutononsunday.co.uk

EAGLE-EYED PCSOs launched a full drugs raid after stumbling across three men acting suspiciously.

The two officers stopped to speak to the men who were in a parked car in Milliners Way, Luton, when they smelt what they thought was cannabis.

They called colleagues for back-up and a search of the vehicle revealed a small stash of cannabis, money and weapons including baseball bats, a hammer and a hack saw.

All three 19-years-olds were arrested on suspicion of possessing offensive weapons and two were also arrested on suspicion of money laundering on November 3.

They have now been released on police bail pending the results of forensic tests.

Shortly afterwards, officers executed a warrant at a house in Shaftsbury Road where they uncovered a large amount of what is thought to be crack cocaine and amphetamines with a potential street value of thousands of pounds.

Detective Constable Catherine Layton said: "This seizure represents a significant disruption to the illegal drugs trade in this area and is a continuation of the force's fight against those who cause misery to respectable members of our communities."

Anyone with information about crime in their area can contact Bedfordshire Police, in confidence, on 101 or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

Council given top marks for its children's services

OFSTED inspectors have assessed that Luton Borough Council's delivery of children's services is excellent.

The authority has been rated at level four, the maximum score that could be achieved.

Inspectors classed the majority of secondary school and all sixth form provision as good or outstanding, and recognised that students from ethnic mix groups are achieving better results than those in similar areas.

The assessment also revealed that the proportion of 16-year-olds from low income families achieving at least five GCSEs at grades A* to C is well above average.

More 16-year-olds with special educational needs also attain five A* to C grades at GCSE, than found in similar areas and nationally.

However, the progress and educational standards in some primary schools were identified as a weakness, with results from this year's tests for 11-year-olds showing no improvement for those achieving the expected level in both english and mathematics.

The council said it will tackle this area of concern by robustly challenging those schools that are under-performing and by using the headteachers and staff of good and outstanding schools to help secure improvement in the weaker schools.

Cllr Tahir Khan said: "This is excellent news and a great testament to the hard efforts of the council and its partners who are committed to raising standards and improving outcomes for children and young people in the town."

Relieve the stress and feel revived

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

ADVERTISING FEATURE

WE all need a little bit of a pampering every now and again. The stresses of work and everyday life take a toll on our bodies and it feels like nothing can be done to undo our aching backs, tired feet and damaged nails.

But just a stone's throw away from The Mall is Aviva Health and Beauty where staff are ready and willing to pamper you silly.

So, in the middle of a particularly hard day I took an hour out of my hectic work schedule to have a much-needed facial and massage.

Aviva is a surprising oasis in the middle of the bustling town centre, despite the hustle outside therapeutic music is played throughout and it is easy to forget what lies on the other side of the wall.

Starting with a back massage I was sent into a complete relaxed state, helped with the addition of chilled-out music to calm my mind.

Using the natural Declor products, I was treated to the full deal, with a cleanse, tone and exfoliation to perk my skin up, followed by a nourishing massage.

Declor products are based on natural oils – so there is nothing better for your skin – and it really shows.

Salon owner, Janan Saher (above) has been a beauty therapist for more than ten years and the salon offers customers treatments from £8.

You can get your nails done, a spray tan, an array of massages for your head, back and full body, and much, much more. Everything to make you feel beautiful.

My skin has never looked so good and I was left with a (relaxed) bounce in my stride and ready to face the rest of the day.

SOPHIE SCOTT

New children's centre to give best possible start

BY LUI STRACCIA

lui.straccia@lutononsunday.co.uk

A BRAND new £6 million children's centre has been officially opened.

Redgrave Children and Young People's Centre, in Northwell Drive, Marsh Farm, was launched by Luton North MP Kelvin Hopkins after a 16 month construction period.

The centre, previously known as Marsh Farm Children's Centre for Excellence, offers a child health clinic, a fathers' group, young parents' group, ICT courses, adult learning classes, drop-in sessions and stay and play groups.

There are also specialist health facilities including an audiology suite, clinical assessment and therapeutic suites and activity rooms for occupational and physical therapy, as well as counselling and training rooms.

More than £4.72 million of funding came from the former Department for Children School and Families Co-location fund, £1 million from NHS Luton, £230,000 from Aiming High for Disabled Children's grant and £44,000 from Surestart.

Matthew Winn, chief executive of Cambridgeshire Community Services NHS Trust which provides adult and children's services in Luton, said: "The new centre enables us to provide an integrated, one-stop facility for health and social care professionals to carry out multi-agency assessment and treatment of children and young people who have developmental delay or disability.

"This is helping us to provide more joined up children's services in Luton and families have already told us how impressed they are with the new facilities."

Cllr Tahir Khan said: "It's great to see this bright new and welcoming centre finally in action serving local children and young people."

"Families with children who need extra help will also benefit from having access to a wide range of services all under one roof."

"This centre will make life easier for those families and help to ensure all children are given the best possible start in life."

LIGHTING UP LUTON FOR CHRISTMAS

With the nights getting longer and leaves falling from the trees, you can almost sniff the excitement in the air as Christmas approaches.

So don't miss your chance to join in this year's spectacular seasonal celebrations beginning on Sunday 20 November with Luton's Christmas lights switch-on celebrations.

It's guaranteed to be a wonderful day out for all the family with events hosted by Luton Borough Council and The Mall running from 11am until 5.30pm.

Make a great start on your Christmas shopping with a choice of gifts and crafts in the marquee in St George's Square. Youngsters can enjoy themselves too on the mini funfare rides next to the marquee.

Seasonal festivities certainly wouldn't be the same without a song or two. So come along and enjoy the sweet melodies and excitement of this year's Christmas choir competition in the marquee in St George's Square. The competition begins with adult singing at 12pm. Dexter the Dragon and his friend Darren will then be on hand for fun and games, followed by the children's part of the choir competition at 2pm.

Entertainment in the Mall includes Rastamouse, Santa and his friends, and a stage show in Smith's Square featuring The Only Way is Essex star James Argent, counting down to The Mall lights switch-on ceremony for the Mall Christmas lights at 5pm.

Then don't forget your hat and gloves to keep you warm before joining the twinkling Lantern Parade on its magical route from Market Hill at 5pm to gather outside the Town Hall at 5.30pm to with TV star James Argent and the Cllr Don Worthing, the Mayor of Luton for the count down to the big switch-on to see Luton light up before your eyes, followed by traditional Christmas carol carols.

Cllr Don Worthing, Mayor of Luton, said: "This promises to be a wonderful family event with something for everyone. There will be so much to do on the day and so much to see, gearing up for the festive season. So whether you are young or not-so-young, come and join us on the day."

Legends mix the greats of country

MUSIC

SOLID GOLD COUNTRY LEGENDS

Grove Theatre, Dunstable
Thursday, 7.30pm

SOLID Gold Country Legends, led by singing stars Jeanne Jordan, BJ Thomas and the Outlaw Country Band brings you the perfect mix of old and new country hits from the classics of Hank Williams, Patsy Cline and Tammy Wynette among others.

The British Country Music Association Awards gave the show the accolade of Best Event, rating the Solid Gold Country Legends show the best in the UK.

Jeanne Jordan has been singing professionally since the age of 13 and was first introduced to country music while living in Los Angeles under the musical direction of the Gibb Brothers, where she was present at the recording of the hit record Islands in the Stream.

While on a tour of the South Western American states BJ and Jeanne first conceived the Solid Gold Country Legends show and have since toured the world with performances in 20 countries.

Combine great music by Garth Brooks, Lady Antebellum and Shania Twain, with stunning costume changes, a large slice of fun and an amazingly authentic country barn stage set, and you have a great night of Solid Gold Country Music guaranteed.

Tickets cost £18 and are available by booking online at www.grovetheatre.co.uk, or by calling the box office on 01582 602080.

Band's 17th album to sweep through the years of music

MUSIC

CHUMBAWAMBA

The Hat Factory, Luton
Friday, 8pm

FIVE-piece Chumbawamba will be taking to the stage with their mix of traditional folk, acappella song and skewed pop to offer something weird, funny, eccentric and challenging.

Chumbawamba, whose career has spanned for nearly three decades, are best known for their hit Tubthumping (which features the iconic lyrics, I get knocked down, but I get up again).

They are now celebrating the release of their new album ABCDEFG, which is the band's 17th album and is unlike any other.

ABCDEFG deals with the idea of music and sweeps through several hundred years of what music means to people and what it means to be a band.

Armed with acoustic guitars, accordion, trumpet and five-part harmonies, this is a musical performance of songs about music. Their performance is a mix-up of music which reflects the stories music tells, from a gentle hymn to teenage under-the-pillow discovery of music; to a celebration of the songs written by soldiers in the First World War.

With its historical and political undercurrents paired with comical elements, there's a lot to think about and enjoy in this performance.

This show may well just make you consider your own musical heritage, but above all, it will provide a charging night of great musical entertainment which is certainly not to be missed.

From a song about how Metallica's music was used as a Guantanamo torture method to the modern day sound of the ubiquitous iPod headphone drowning out the birdsong; this show promises to be great fun.

Tickets cost £12 or £10 for concessions.

Book your tickets online now at www.thehatfactory.org or call the box office on 01582 878100 or 547474.

Breakfast club

– with Heart FM's
Stuart and Natalie

WE HAD the Hoff on the show this week, telling us why he won't give up on the continuous wedding proposals to Hayley. He admitted he tries to do it in life threatening positions: "Like bungee jumping off Victoria falls bridge or in front of sharks, that was pretty interesting, that really got her attention." But it didn't get him a yes though!

We wanted to hear his plans for cult show Knight Rider: "I took it to the network and they blew it, they cut me out of it. It had no heart, no humour and no action."

"I've now got the possibility of buying the full rights, so I can create it like David Hasselhoff's Knight Rider – make it true to the old school, have Kit still be Kit and Michael still be Michael and he has a son."

Let's hope he doesn't put a booster seat in the back as Kit won't be happy!

Heart's Jason Donovan has been talking about how much he enjoyed the Halloween episode of Strictly, with the group dance as the Addams family.

His quick step was brilliant, putting him back on form after his Pasadoble the week before.

Jason described that dance as: "A difficult birth – following on from Len's comments, where he described me as the midwife that always delivers!"

He also admitted the downside of Strictly saying: "You get so anxious, you're doing the dance and they pull you off straight away to talk to the judges and I can't even get the saliva going in my mouth for about ten seconds, I can't even speak!"

We love how he's doing us proud and look forward to which dance is next. You can support Team Jason at www.heart.co.uk.

Stuart and Natalie present Heart Breakfast Monday to Friday from 6-10am on Heart 96.6FM.

Bob is back on tour after three year gap

MUSIC

BOB GELDOF

The Alban Arena, St Albans

Saturday, 7.30pm

PERFORMING tracks from his fifth solo album 'How To Compose Popular Songs That Will Sell', alongside hits from The Boomtown Rats, Bob Geldof will be appearing at The Alban Arena in his first theatre tour in more than three years.

Bob Geldof (pictured right), Irish singer, songwriter, author, occasional actor, and political activist rose to prominence as the lead singer of the Irish rock band The Boomtown Rats in the late 1970s and early 1980s alongside the punk rock movement.

The band had hits with his compositions 'Rat Trap' and 'I don't like Mondays'.

He co-wrote 'Do They Know It's Christmas?', one of the best selling singles of all time, for Live Aid and was subsequently knighted, at the age of 34, for his efforts.

Don't miss your chance to see this iconic performer live in St Albans.

Tickets cost £25 and can be booked online at www.alban-arena.co.uk or by calling the box office on 01727 844488.

Milton returns with even more witty one-liners

COMEDY

MILTON JONES - LION WHISPERER

Grove Theatre, Dunstable

Wednesday, 8pm

MULTI-award-winning Milton Jones, often fondly referred to, mainly by himself, as 'the weird bloke with the shirts from Mock The Week', is back on the road this autumn for yet another extension of his sell-out Lion Whisperer tour.

Star of BBC1's Mock The Week and Michael McIntyre's Comedy Roadshow, Milton is proving to be one of the UK's brightest comedy stars.

His witty and punchy one-liners are accessible to all ages, making his shows a big hit for the whole family.

As well as sell-out UK tours and international festival appearances Milton has starred in countless TV and radio shows including eight series of his very own Sony and British Comedy Award-winning Radio 4 series – The Very World Of Milton Jones and Another Case Of Milton Jones.

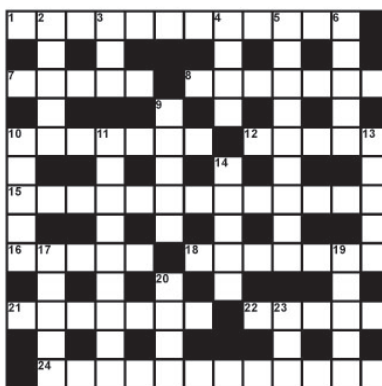

As well as Mock The Week and Michael McIntyre's Comedy Roadshow, his other television credits include: Comedy Cuts, Music Hall Meltdown and The Stand-Up Show.

Milton's current DVD release, 'Milton Jones – Live Universe Tour. Part 1: Earth' is available to buy now from www.amazon.co.uk

A second DVD is set for release later this month.

Tickets cost £17.50 and are available online at www.grovetheatre.co.uk, or by calling the box office on 01582 602080.

THE HYUNDAI i40 TOURS ITS WAY TO VICTORY

- The Hyundai i40 Tourer awarded 'Best Estate Car' at the 2011 Scottish Car of the Year awards
- First award since vehicle was launched in September 2011
- Praised for its space, practicality, economy and elegant styling
- The Hyundai i40 Tourer is available from £18,395, has class leading insurance group ratings from 12E, including lowest BIK cost in class, CO2 emissions from 113g/km and class-leading fuel economy from 65.7mpg
- The Hyundai ix20 commended in the 'Best Small Car' category

The Hyundai i40 Tourer is Scotland's 'Best Estate Car', according to the judges of the 2011 Scottish Car of the Year awards. The stylish new entry to the medium family estate car market impressed the motoring expert judges from the Association of Scottish Motoring Writers (ASMW) during testing and fought off competition from the Peugeot 508 SW, Focus Estate, Astra Sport Tourer and BMW 5 Series Touring to be crowned the winner. John Murdoch, President of the ASMW explained: "There are three things an estate car must be – practical, practical and practical. So, our winner has the space and versatility to seal the deal for practicality, but this estate has a whole lot more to offer. Not least, its elegant looks and stylish interior, but we're also big fans of the way it drives, its economical engines and very competitive prices. Oh, and did we mention it's also one of the most practical estates you can buy?" The i40 Tourer wasn't the only Hyundai praised by the judges, the ix20 – Hyundai's compact MPV – also impressed the ASMW coming runner up in the Best Small Car category. John Murdoch, President of ASMW, commented: "As well as its high level of standard equipment, the ix20 deserves praise for its economy, quality, packaging and warranty." Hyundai UK's managing director, Tony Whitehorn, said: "We are absolutely delighted that the i40 Tourer has won the award for 'Best Estate Car' of the Year. This is our first award for a vehicle which represents yet another remarkable step change for Hyundai – offering elegant design, practicality, economy and exceptional value for money.

Priced from £18,395, the Hyundai i40 Tourer is on-sale now at Hyundai dealerships throughout the UK. For more information, or to book a test drive, visit your local Hyundai dealership or visit – www.hyundai-car.co.uk

Young hero Jordan set for shot at big future

BOXING

JORDAN Reynolds is out to make a name for himself this afternoon when he takes on Jimmy Egan's ABC pugilist Callum Holland for a place in the final of the National Association of Clubs for Young People (NACYP) 2011 Championships.

The Luton teenager, who fights out of Stevenage Amateur Boxing Club but also trains at Graham Earl's House of Champions gym on Hitchin Road, despatched former England schoolboy and Capital ABC veteran Kaz Mahmood in the quarter-finals on a split decision.

It was only his 12th fight but today he travels to Wakefield, Yorkshire, to do battle in the semi-finals of a competition that has seen Amir Khan and Ricky Hatton contest in the amateur days – and he is aiming to push his name into the national fray.

"My main aim at the moment is to fight for England," he said. "I'm second in the country as a lightweight but now I've moved up a weight I want to go one better at welter."

"I'd love to fight in the Four Nations next year. I can't wait to turn professional to be honest because I think my style will suit it – but first, I'd love to fight in the World Amateur Boxing Championships in two years time."

Reynolds admitted he was disappointed not to meet Michael Katsidis, who used Earl's gym as a training base ahead of his interim WBO lightweight title defeat to Ricky Burns at Wembley last weekend. But that didn't stop him from asking his mentor if he could get in the ring with the Australian former two-time WBO interim lightweight champion.

"I wanted to spar with him," Reynolds said. "I didn't get to see him as we trained at different times but I asked Graham and he said 'no'. I'm sure he'll be back at the gym one day."

But with such confidence the Lutonian said that today's opponent from Manchester doesn't scare him.

"I'm so excited and I just want to get into the ring," he said. "I've seen this kid I'm going to face and he stopped his last opponent. He's a big hitter but I've got A, B, C and D plans to deal with him."

Victory would cap off a big week for Reynolds who last weekend won the Young Hero gong at the Luton Community Awards.

The prize, which is given to someone under 18 years of age who has overcome a personal difficulty or made a stand to improve their life or the lives of others, came as quite a shock to him.

"I knew nothing about it until I got a letter in the post," he said. "When they read out my name I'd never heard so much noise."

Shamrock Boxing Club's Dan Brueilly is also in the semi-finals in the 86kg weight category.

■ TWO professional boxers from Shamrock BC will be battling it out in Miranda Carter's Left Jab Promotions 'Storming Sunday' event this afternoon at the world famous York Hall in Bethnal Green, London (3pm). Duane 'Bang Bang' Grimes goes toe-to-toe with Scot Moises and light heavyweight Marco Stephenson faces debutant Scot Hartley.

Graham Earl's heavyweight prospect Tom Little steps back into the ring at York Hall on Friday for the first time since his debut win over Rolandas Cesna back in June.

LUTON TOWN

ADAM Watkins proved to be the archetypal super sub for Luton Town, grabbing the only goal of the game ten minutes from time as they scored a good old-fashioned FA Cup upset over local rivals Northampton Town at home.

Just 11 places separate the Hatters and League Two strugglers Northampton on the football pyramid, with the Cobblers currently enduring a season that has failed to live up to their ambitions of promotion.

This result will also heap more woe on their beleaguered boss Gary Johnson.

The visitors also had won just once in 26 visits to Kenilworth Road before this contest, with popular midfielder Watkins, who had only been on the pitch five minutes, ensuring that record did not improve.

Hatters boss Gary Brabin made three changes to the side that slumped to a 2-1 defeat at home to Fleetwood Town in the league last week.

One of those was enforced due to Stuart Fleetwood's suspension, while he also opted to give goalkeeper Kevin Pilkington a run out in place of Mark Tyler.

Jamie Hand and John Paul Kissock were the other two handed a start.

Meanwhile, Northampton sprang a surprise by giving Jason Crowe the nod. The left back, who had a four-year spell with the club from 2005 to 2009, had been training with the Cobblers in recent weeks, but was not expected to play.

Straight from the off the signs were there that this was going to be a traditional blood and thunder derby encounter with Keith Keane putting in a firm but fair tackle on Lewis Young that left the Northampton winger needing treatment.

The visitors had been setting the tone with some fine attacking play, yet it was Luton that had the first chance of the match on seven minutes.

Aaron O'Connor was bundled over by Michael Jacobs after a strong run and Morgan-Smith stepped up to take the resulting free kick from 30 yards, only to hit the wall.

Two minutes later the Hatters forward took a tumble in the penalty area, going over the outstretched foot of Michael Jacobs.

Referee Andy D'Urso was having none of it though and correctly waved away vocal appeals for a spot kick.

At the other end, Adebayo Akinfenwa headed just over after connecting with Michael Jacobs' pinpoint free kick from wide on the left, while Lewis Young scuffed a shot low and wide after good work from Akinfenwa to play him in.

The game was starting to degenerate into a somewhat scrappy affair though with chances at a premium.

Luton did threaten in the 17th minute when Keane headed Curtis Osano's cross back across the area to Morgan-Smith before the ball was cleared, while five minutes later the Jacobs-Akinfenwa combination saw the imposing striker head into the side netting.

Keane also saw an ambitious headed attempt from Kissock's out-swinging corner loop over the bar from 18 yards out on 26 minutes.

Northampton then had the ball in the back of the net three minutes later, but Saido Berahino's rocket shot was ruled out as he had been in an offside position.

The Cobblers were forced to replace Young with Arron Davies due to injury just after the half hour. The former Welsh international was soon in among the action as well, hitting a shot wide on the half volley from 20 yards.

Luton's injury jinx also returned with two minutes of the half remaining as they lost both Keane and Morgan-Smith.

They were also somewhat aggrieved not to have been awarded a penalty in first half added time when Morgan-Smith appeared to be shoved over by John Johnson.

It was a cagey opening to the second period before Davies curled a shot wide from 20 yards after Berahino had pulled the ball back to him on 50 minutes.

Luton also continued to press, with Kissock drilling a shot high over the bar seven minutes later, while an overhead kick from Janos Kovacs on the hour was also off target. Goalie Pilkington was forced into a fine save to deny Berahino, palming the England youth striker's attempted chip over in the 64th minute. Luton were starting to take control of proceedings though, and O'Connor glanced a header wide from substitute Robbie Willmott's corner three minutes later.

Northampton saw chances for Davies and Johnson go begging, with Willmott's curling strike from the edge of the box – after he had cut in from the right – needing two touches from goalkeeper Sam Walker before he held it.

But the killer blow was struck in the 80th minute and it came from the substitute.

Willmott's cross was only half-headed clear and it fell perfectly for Watkins, who duly obliged by volleying it home from 20 yards out into Walker's bottom right hand corner. Jacobs went close to levelling things up three minutes from time, with his dipping shot from the edge of the 'D' going just over.

Nothing was going to deny the Hatters though, and join the likes of Crawley Town, Yeovil Town and Canvey Island as the non-league sides to have dumped Northampton out of the Cup.

Watkins aims at permanent position could happen. I'm keeping my fingers crossed that in the next game I might be able to play a little bit more.

"If he picks me then I'll play my heart out for the club, but if I come off the bench I'll try and make the impact I did today."

His goal came when he hit a headed clearance first time from the edge of the box on his weaker left foot, which proved enough to secure Luton's progress to round two.

Watkins said: "I was only in the stands three years ago so it's a great feeling."

"I know what the fans want, I know what they like and hopefully I can give a little bit of that."

"I was delighted just to get the win for the boys – that's the main thing – but it's great to come on, score the winner and cause a bit of an upset."

"I think it was the most difficult finish I've had."

"It was on my weaker foot as well, but I'm delighted just to score and get the boys through to the second round."

And having already dumped one of their local rivals out of the world's oldest cup competition, Watkins has his eyes on doing the same further down the line.

"I'd love to play MK Dons home or away," he said. "Anything like that would be brilliant just for the fans as well. If we can nick them then I would be delighted."

"If we can get through that then definitely Watford or Manchester United away."

Late Dance penalty a 'Bobby-dazzler'

EVO-STIK DIVISION ONE CENTRAL

BARTON ROVERS 2
NORTH GREENFORD UNITED 1

BOBBY DANCE scored a late penalty as Barton came away with a narrow win at home to North Greenford United.

Rovers dominated most of the match but they needed a last-minute spot-kick to grab all three points.

A goalless first period saw Andrew Iwediuno's header cleared off the line and Russell Ball toe-poking over.

David Parkinson then forced the keeper into a double save as Barton searched for an opener.

After the interval, North Greenford took a fortuitous early lead before Dance struck twice to secure the win.

DUNSTABLE TOWN 1
TRING ATHLETIC 1

TOWN dropped their first home points of the season after their encounter with Tring Athletic finished level.

The match was a tight and tense encounter with Lee Burgoyne receiving a red card in the closing stages.

Tring took the lead through Conor Waite and Dunstable seemed to be heading for defeat before a strange off-the-ball incident gifted them the equaliser. A Tring substitute needlessly fouled a Town player and the referee gave a penalty which was successfully converted by Dean Brennan.

SOUTH MIDLANDS LEAGUE PREMIER DIVISION

HILLINGDON BOROUGH 0
AFC DUNSTABLE 2

A DOMINANT performance by AFC Dunstable saw them run out worthy winners at Hillingdon Borough.

BJ Christie and Craig Butski netted to secure a well-deserved three points.

Christie opened the scoring with ten minutes on the clock after Wayne Mills' through-ball was headed into the path of the striker by James Baldry.

AFC then continued to apply pressure but were unable to find the net before half time.

Midway through the second period JJ Billy was brought down in the area and Butski fired in the resulting penalty.

SOUTH MIDLANDS LEAGUE DIVISION ONE

TOKYNGTON MANOR 1
CRAWLEY GREEN 6

LEE HAYWARD grabbed four goals as Crawley Green thrashed Tokyngton Manor with Luke Lincoln netting the remaining two.

Lincoln and Hayward each scored to give Crawley an early two-goal lead. Tokyngton pulled one back but two further goals from Hayward made it 4-1.

The duo then both struck again after the interval to make it 22 goals in three games for the in-form visitors.

SOUTH MIDLANDS LEAGUE DIVISION TWO

CADDINGTON 6
HALE LEYS UNITED 0

A STEVE HARRIS hat-trick helped Caddington thrash Hale Leys United in a one-sided affair.

Daniel Fleming, Henry Seele and Sam May also featured on the scoresheet to secure a much-needed win.

ANAGRAM RECORDS TROPHY ROUND ONE

THE 61FC exited the cup after losing 3-2 on penalties to Risborough Rangers.

Aaron Lewis and James Potter netted midway through the second half to give The 61 a two-goal cushion.

But Rangers struck twice late in the game to force the tie into extra-time and then a spot kick lottery.

Elsewhere, Reece Calvano scored KENT ATHLETIC'S only goal of the match as they lost 4-1 to MK Wanderers.

HAVANT 20
LUTON 33

LUTON beat Havant well enough to earn a bonus point and come away with a much-needed win.

Mike Weston, Aidan Kenny, Ben Murphy, Jake Hobbs and Sam Collins scored while Nathan Belliman, Joel Knight, Jarryd Robinson and Dickie Duke contributed for Havant.

A poor start by Luton saw the home side take the lead through Belliman and Knight. But Weston went over and Kenny kicked a penalty goal before a Knight kick finished the first half scoring.

Five Luton tries from Murphy, Weston, Irvine, Hobbs and Collins after the interval then wrapped up the victory with Robinson and Duke touching down for Havant.

DUNSTABLIANS 12

DUNSTABLIANS' slow start condemned them to their third away defeat of the season.

After 20 minutes played the visitors already had a mountain to climb, trailing by 19 points. But Andre Nelson scored a breakaway try just before the interval, followed by a conversion by Danny Mills. The visitors reduced the deficit further when prop Stuart Calder touched down in the corner to make it 19-12, but the conversion was missed.

Both sides were now attacking but it was the hosts who scored again, their unconverted try enough to seal the win.

STOCKWOOD PARK 7
PETERBOROUGH LIONS 38

STOCKWOOD Park lost their third league match in succession against the league leaders at London Road.

Peterborough have lost only once this campaign and were never under any threat.

The visitors were bigger and faster than their opposition and bullied their way to a 26-0 half-time advantage. Two tries and a conversion were added by them after the break. Yet Stockwood didn't throw in the towel and got a consolation try in the 75th minute.

After a good passage of pressure Jack Spencer deservedly crossed the line. Jason Carr added a conversion to slightly narrow the final margin.

Town are Taylor made for Greg

BY JAMES DIELEHNN
sport@LSNmedia.co.uk

NEW Luton Town signing Greg Taylor has revealed how the lure of playing at a packed-out Kenilworth Road convinced him to leave cash-strapped Darlington.

Bedford-born Taylor made the move back south this week, citing the support of the Hatters fans as the driving force behind his transfer.

"Luton's got a big fanbase," the former Mark Rutherford School student said. "They get 6,000 a week and that's a lot of fans for this level."

"I like the atmosphere they create, and even if they're giving me a roast, it will bring out the best in me."

Luton's faithful following is in stark contrast to what Taylor had become accustomed to in the North East.

"I was playing in a 27,000 seater stadium with just 2,000 people in it. There was no atmosphere at all," he admitted.

But after 19 appearances and two goals for the Quakers this season, a deal was pushed through for an initial loan deal before a permanent 18-month contract will be signed in January.

Taylor (pictured) continued: "Luton made a bid on Tuesday but the chairman wasn't really happy with it, so he stalled for a while and made it difficult."

"I had a few clubs sniffing around Gateshead and Kidderminster made inquiries. But when they heard that Luton wanted me, everyone knew I'm a local boy so I'd come here."

"I only had six months left on my deal before I was a free agent so that helped me complete this move.

"It all got sorted quickly and I moved down on Wednesday. I needed to either complete it in a few days or Luton would look for someone else."

Manager Gary Brabin has earmarked his new recruit to take over the vacant left-back position after Freddie Murray's season-ending knee surgery.

"I'd like to get a bit of consistency with my position because I've been moved about recently," he said.

"The last couple of years I've been played everywhere. I played central midfield against Luton this season. I used to get asked to play there and I'd do it, but I'm really a full back."

"Right or left isn't a problem for me. I like to get forward and help attack."

Taylor is aware that this transfer will bring added pressure, with Luton maintaining their focus on promotion this season.

"I stand more of a chance of playing at a higher level with Luton than I did for Darlington. Gary Brabin has made me feel welcome so now I have to show everyone what I can do."

Darlington harboured the same ambitions this season, but Taylor revealed the extent of the problems at his underachieving former club.

"They were struggling for money," he said.

"The chairman put it in the papers that he was offering all the players out [to other clubs], and it started to circulate which players would be put on the transfer market. They were asking everybody to take pay cuts and the chairman kept saying that we might not get our wages at the end of the month, so the best thing for me to do was to get out of that situation."

One factor that sped up the 21-year-old's transfer to Luton was the dismissal of Mark Cooper, who managed Taylor at Kettering before resigning him for Darlington.

He said: "We were 14th in the league and we were meant to be in the top five. So the chairman got rid of the manager."

"I was annoyed to see him go but I couldn't do anything about that."

Taylor was deprived of his debut yesterday against one of his former clubs, Northampton Town, because he was cup-tied but is expected to line up at left-back for the visit to Cambridge next week.

GOAL HERO: Adam Watkins

picture by Gareth Owen

Super-sub hopes Cup goal will lead to regular starts

ADAM Watkins hopes that his FA Cup heroics for Luton Town will help earn him a regular starting spot in their midfield.

The self-confessed Hatters fan got the only goal of the game against Northampton Town ten minutes from time as they sprang an upset against the League Two side.

Coupled with an injury that midfield general Keith Keane suffered during the same game, the 20-year-old is now aiming for regular first team action.

"The gaffer puts me on to try and make an impact," said Watkins.

"I was disappointed not to get the start, but I've got to keep doing that and working hard."
